Gov. Peabody Seen Winner Over Bellotti At Conclave

Three things are seriously hurting Lieutenant Governor Francis X. Bellotti as he challenges Governor Endicott Peabody for the Democratic nomination for the Governorship.

One is the great patronage power of the Governor's office which Peabody and his lieutenants apparently have been using very effectively to line up delegate support at the coming Democratic State Convention.

A second is the tremendous influence of Senator Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy with the delegates and the party leaders who pick the delegates. Kennedy, of course, has endorsed Peabody for renomination. That has generated a substantial amount of backing for the Governor which he otherwise might not get.

Newton High School and Newton South High held separate graduation exercises last night, awarded approximately 1300 diplomas and scores of scholarships, cups and prizes to outstanding boys and girls.

More than 800 Newton High School graduates received their diplomas before applauding relatives and friends at Dickinson Stadium.

In a similar scene on the grounds at the Administration Building at Newton South, diplomas were presented to 480 seniors. It was Newton South's third graduation.

The combined graduating class of the two schools was the largest in Newton's history.

Most of the boys and girls who received their high school diplomas last night will continue their education at universities and colleges in all sections of the United States.

Presentation of scholarships and other prizes were among the highlights of the ceremonies at both Newton High and Newton South High.

State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane delivered the graduation address at the Newton High School rites.

Principal Richard W. Mechem and Administrative Assistant Richard C. Howland presented the diplomas to marshalls and diploma-bearers. The house-masters, in turn, distributed the diplomas to the graduates of their respective houses.

Former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., president of the Newton High School Alumni Association, awarded the Senior Cups. A special musical program by the high school concert band preceded the graduation ceremonies.

The Rt. Rev. John M. Burgess, Suffragan Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts, gave the invocation. Franklin H. Levy, president of the senior class, presented the class gift to the school.

A summation of the Senior Week Symposium which took place during the week of May 25 was given in the form of three papers written by Charles F. Oteri, Linda Jane Dannenberg and Carol Joyce Kaplan. These students were introduced by Dr. Donald K. Davidson, principal of Newton South High.

School Superintendent Charles E. Brown announced the award of 35 prizes and scholarships to outstanding Newton South High graduating seniors.

Small Project First Advises BRA Official

James G. Colbert, member and treasurer of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, recommended that the Newton Redevelopment Authority undertake a smaller redevelopment project as its first project rather than a big project, last week when he spoke before the annual meeting of the Oak Hill District Improvement Association at the Meadowbrook School in Oak Hill.

Speaking before nearly 75 members, Colbert said that "any new Redevelopment Authority, whether in Boston or Newton, is going to learn from its own mistakes."

For this reason he suggested that some smaller project be started in Newton before the Newton Corner project which has been given a top priority by the N.R.A.

"The Newton Redevelopment Authority would be in a much better position to undertake a large project if it first discovers all the problems involved in a smaller one," he said.

Colbert, who is also news director for the Transcript Publications in Dedham, said the greatest problem of a clearance project is that of relocating families and businesses.

Mr. Colbert also discussed politics on the national level and on the state level. The subject of his talk was "Politics at Your Front Door."

He advised members to take the time to read the platforms adopted by both parties in Mass. when the state conventions are held in a few weeks.

If either platform proposes new programs costing millions of dollars and at the same time pledges that there will be no new taxes, you should know that you—the voters—are just being

New Signature Drive To Curb Council Power

In view of the recent close defeat in the Massachusetts Legislature of the bill to curb the powers of the Governor's Council, The Newton League of Women Voters has a campaign underway to procure additional signatures to insure the issue's being placed on the ballot next November.

The defeated bill, H 3000, had the endorsement of Newton's delegation on Beacon Hill, Reps. Joseph G. Bradley, John W. Whittemore, Irving Fishman and Lorenz Muther Jr., as well as Senators Leslie B. Cutler and Beryl W. Cohen.

Mrs. Ernest H. Picard, chairman of the Newton League, urges all supporters of the measure who did not sign the original petition to be sure to do so in the current drive.

Fire Lieutenant Heads Muscular Dystrophy Drive

Lt. Joseph Fitzsimmons of the Newton Fire Department reminds Newton residents that the Muscular Dystrophy Association's Greater Boston Chapter drive opens Sunday, June 7, with a house-to-house march to raise funds for continued research and patient care in this area.

The lieutenant expresses hope that all will be generous in order that the program can be expanded. Some of the patient service work, he explains, is the purchase of needed medical appliances, support of the free clinic at Massachusetts Memorial Hospital, and a summer camp program for muscular dystrophy victims.

Democrats In Ward 2 Plan Member Drive

Newton's Ward 2 Democratic Committee met recently to elect officers and state convention delegates. Officers re-elected were as follows:

Chairman, Daniel Rothberg, 173 Otis St., secretary, Samuel Visco, 31 Brookside Rd., and treasurer, Morris Horowitz, 97 Beaumont Ave.

Donald Wood, Edgar Lift and Samuel Visco were selected to represent the ward at the state convention.

Gerome Olrich, Ward 2 registration chairman, stressed the need to follow a postcard with a telephone call to remind non-registered eligibles to get their names on the voting list.

Alvin Hochberg suggested that the elected delegates present their views on the major issues — capitol punishment, sales tax, and the powers of the Governor's Council.

Chairman Rothberg, speaking on the rapidly increasing strength of the Democratic Party in Newton, stated that Ward 2 would have an associate membership drive to encourage civic-minded Democrats' participation at the grass roots level.

Memorial Day Exercises At Newton School

The annual Memorial Day program of the Memorial School was held on May 28th. This school was built as a memorial to World War II veterans and this holiday is therefore of special significance to its students.

The 4th grade introduced the program with a choral speaking passage on the significance of Memorial Day. Gary Richmond, a fourth grader, then acted as master of ceremonies for the events to follow.

Grade 1 gave a demonstration of marching with flags. Grade 2 sang "God Bless America." Grade 3 sang "Our Own Dear Country." Grade 5 presented a choral speaking passage on the "American Creed" followed by the "Naval Hymn." Grade 6 recited "Oh Captain, My Captain." Interspersed were several renditions by the school orchestra under the direction of Mr. George Napoli.

A special highlight of the program was the presentation of $130.20 to be donated to the Kennedy Library Fund. The children had collected this money themselves throughout the month of May. Dr. Olive Eldridge, principal, announced that it would be sent to the fund as a birthday present to our late president. The presentation was made by Susan Ferraz, Richard Roud and Abby Isenberg.

Following the presentation, the 4th grade recited excerpts from Kennedy's Inaugural Address, under the able direction of Miss Barbara O'Hara. Grade 5 then sang "Eternal Flame." The program concluded with the entire school joining in on "O Beautiful."

kidded. There really isn't enough money in the state treasury now for present state programs let alone for new programs.

"All candidates for Governor should stand up and tell the people in honest and forthright fashion how they propose to meet the financial problems confronting the state, or if they propose to meet it," he continued.

Most candidates, Colbert said, feel they would be "committing political suicide" if they told the voters that new taxes would be necessary and as a result the people do not get all the facts.

It is partly the fault of the people for not demanding the facts, he added.

A review of the accomplishments of the Oak Hill Association over the past year were given by Association President Alan S. Barkin, 540 Parker St., Newton Centre, prior to the main address. He also mentioned some of the matters of concern that would be facing the Association next year.

Young Runs A Record 440 Yds

Mark Young, a Newton South High football great, distinguished himself in another sport last Saturday at White Stadium, where he established a new record in the Class B 440-yard dash.

The all-scholastic end ran the 440 in 49.3, a record for the course.

South High piled up 24 points to lead the area schools in the 30th annual state track meet.

The Newton school's point getters were Soren Olsen, who was third in the 220; Mike Coleman, fifth in the 40; Terry Crouch, 3rd place tie in the pole vault; Bill Bridge, 4th place tie in the 880, and the relay team of Coleman, Rick Goldstein, Olsen and Young.

Others were Bob Ainsler, fifth in the high hurdles; Jimmy Hoover and Tom Grieve, 4th and 5th in the broad jump, and John Greenwood, 1st place pole vault tie.

She will have the opportunity to learn about retailing and participate in the sales training program. In September she will attend the Garland School where she will major in fashion retailing.

Miss Charm 1964-'65 is the 11th Miss Charm since the contest was started in 1954 by Grover Cronin.

The other 11 finalists were: Paula Barnes, Belmont, Belmont High School Junior; Michelle Chateaufort, Mount St. Mary's Seminary graduate in 1963; Lynn Cochran, Winchester, Winchester High Junior; Stephanie Collieran, Watertown, Boston University sophomore; Janet Hankey, Lincoln, Lincoln - Sudbury Regional High Senior; Jeanna Hulsman, Weston, Weston High Senior; Margaret Kelly, Waltham, St. Mary's High Senior; Patricia Laird, Lexington, Lexington High Senior; Carole Schaufus, Waltham, Waltham High Junior; Margaret Shaw, Waltham, Waltham High Graduate in 1963; Carla Stapelfeld, Marlboro, Marlboro High Sophomore.

Newton South Little League In Tie For 1st

Newton South Little League has recently completed the first half of its season with the Tigers and Yankees looking in a first place tie. In an exciting playoff the Yankees outlasted the Tigers 7-3. The playoff was featured by the spectacular relief pitching of Charlie Badavis of the Yankees who struck out nine and walked one in four innings of relief pitching and the hitting of Carl Jonasson who drove in four runs. The Yankees also have the hitting of Leo Costa, Jon Michals, Barry Cain, and the pitching of Stan Swartz to make them the best balanced team in the league.

The Tigers had won five straight before losing to the Yankees and are led by the pitching of John Hollo, Gardner Rowbotham, and Bob Davine, plus recently the hot bats of Jim Stavits and Ken Vlass.

As the league goes into the second half the fast rising Braves will definitely be a factor in the race. They are led by the hot bats of Frank Hurvitz, Steve Umina, Lan Wattine, and Dave Zeitz, plus the strong pitching arms of Hurvitz and Hurvitz (Billy). Hurvitz is probably the hottest batter in the league at the moment, hitting a home run per game.

The ever dangerous Colts have two of the most explosive batters in Jim Gamble and Fred Virgilio and the hitting of Paul Selby. Virgilio's bat plus his strong pitching arm, Gamble's explosive hitting power and Paul Selby's control pitching make the Colts a threat to the leaders.

The Red Sox and Giants, who started cold, show signs of heating up. Tom Phillips, Tom O'Shaughnessy, and Jim Smith make the Red Sox dangerous and when Paul Taylor, the leagues fastest pitcher is on the mound, the Red Sox can beat anybody.

When the Giants send Eugene Jackson, Dick Johnson, Rich Kraft, and Ken Green to bat they are sure to get runs, particularly if Tom Monahan finds a way to get on base. Jackson makes the Giants tough when he pitches. Recently the Giants have won two of their last three games.

Early spurs, dating back to Roman times, were made of wood or bone.

The following were cited for having a perfect attendance record: Margaret Elizabeth Ahern, Margaret Louise Alexander, Eileen Mary Dougherty, Maurine Gianni, Regina Mary Hayes, Anne Genevieve Hogan, Mary Bernadine Hunt, Marie Malone, Joan Louise McCourt, Eileen Marie O'Brien, Rose Marie Pitts and Patricia Ann Paradiso.

What Values Do Vandals Set?

Only God can make a tree, but any nitwit can destroy one, or thirty-two for that matter, to carry the lack of a sense of decency and responsibility to its fullest extent.

Increasing acts of senseless vandalism by teenagers are becoming sickening to citizens who exercise some control over their emotions and who retain a semblance of respect for law and order.

The hooligans who must give vent to viciousness and who reek destruction upon private or public property must be brought to justice and punished for their brainless acts.

The shoddy story of teen-age hoodlumism which is daily reading fare in the nation's newspapers cannot be interpreted as boyish or girlish, pranks, adolescent hi-jinks, or the release of juvenile energies. These are crimes we read about today, many of them felonies. Frankly, most of us are gorged on the odious fare.

Even an attempt by a community to add a touch of natural beauty in the planting of trees is not spared by today's young hoodlums.

What exactly are the values set by our enterprising young vandals?

What kind of world do they desire? To what life pattern do they subscribe? Maybe we could find their utopia somewhere on this battered old planet and send them there where they could be as happy as their limits allow.

We are all well aware that all the acts of vandalism perpetrated upon a patient public do not make the headlines around the nation. Possibly, the complete and awful story might shake some of the complacency out of us.

At no time in the history of this nation, has so much been done for the betterment of the young people. They are provided better schools and educational facilities than their parents ever knew; more leisure, an improved standard of living, a variety of recreational activities, and the most complete access to a happy adult life that any American generation since the wearers of the cocked hat and knee pants.

We admit that the majority of today's youngsters are keen, alert, well-balanced, and are taking full advantage of the wonderful opportunities available to them.

But the uncontrolled elements, through repeated and repulsive acts of violence, are becoming more than a nuisance; they are a menace, and should be treated as such. How long will the many put up with so much from so few?

Many authorities believe that no boy is a bad boy if the proper direction is given to his life during his formative years. This direction and needed discipline must come from within the home.

Parents hand on their offspring to the school and the church but the foundations for future well being must be laid in the home, for there is where the twig is bent. It's a tough, and a sad, problem which wastes many promising young lives while a solution is being pondered.

Cigars For The Ladies

Contemporary Americans, who harbor even a smidgen of an appreciation for the higher values, realize that modern commercialism reaches far down into the garbage pail to propagate sales for certain products; but some kind of nadir was reached this week.

An advertisement appeared portraying a fashionable young lady casually puffing on a cigar.

She was advertised as every inch a lady who was exercising her independence by smoking—and no doubt—chewing on the stogie.

Over recent years, the American female has allowed her image to be twisted and distorted in the public press, and over the electronic media, by the clever gents who pander to the mad search for the almighty dollar.

These fellows have placed inane utterings in her mouth and have pictured her in a variety of surroundings and attire, performing acts of stupidity, all characterized as the routine antics of the normal American woman. Of course, the American male hasn't been overlooked, nor has he been spared.

However, he hasn't yet been pictured powdering his nose or shaving his legs, a desecration on a par with that of a comely young lady smoking a cigar.

We have no argument with cigar smoking. But to shove one of the things into the mouth of an attractive woman is a heresy. It's treason and, by gum, the ladies should do something about it, before the spittoon moves into the boudoir.

Cigarettes for women are accepted in this day and age. They can be handled with a certain insouciance which might denote elegance in a lady. But a cigar. Or, even one of those dinky pipes? Girls, put the spilled heels down with determination.

The lipstick hasn't been processed that can do much for a mouth that clutches a cigar. Watch the man who smokes one, especially if it dribbles on his chin. Be really independent, girls, and don't fall for those phony ads.

Political Highlights

A third factor which seems to have made an impact upon many politicians is that Bellotti last year reportedly was given $50,000 from the proceeds of a Peabody fund-raising dinner to pay off his 1962 campaign debts.

There was nothing whatever improper in Bellotti accepting the $50,000 from the Peabody friendship dinner any more than there was in Peabody giving it to him.

It was simply a case of a Democratic Governor making it possible for a Democratic Lieutenant Governor to pay off his campaign bills.

But in the eyes of many politicians Bellotti is guilty of the sin of ingratitude.

They feel that once having accepted the money from the Peabody dinner, Bellotti had a moral obligation not to run against Peabody.

Whether this will be as much of an issue with the public as it is with the politicians is a question. It probably will not.

All the indications are that Peabody will defeat Bellotti decisively at the Democratic State Convention now only two weeks away.

Bellotti's big problem may be to hold his strength so that he can make at least a respectable showing at the conclave in West Springfield.

If Peabody overwhelms Bellotti at the convention and scores a runaway victory, it would weaken Bellotti for the crucial primary fight he will wage against Peabody.

Leaders in the Peabody camp are now predicting that the Governor will receive the votes of three-fourths of the delegates to the Democratic State Convention.

At the moment that seems to be an over-optimistic appraisal from Peabody's standpoint although a stampede to Peabody could start if the rollcall shows him pulling well ahead of Bellotti.

If it should prove to be an accurate estimate, it would mean that Peabody would pull three times as many votes as Bellotti and Middlesex County District Attorney John J. Droney combined.

That would be a crushing blow to Bellotti and would make it more difficult for him to get his campaign into high gear after the convention.

Bellotti realized that the odds would be against him at the convention. It is doubtful, however, that he expected that the going would be as uphill as it has proved to be.

Whether it was a tactical error for Bellotti to commit himself to a test of strength with Peabody at the convention is a question only time will answer.

Confusion Surrounds GOP Governor Battle

Confusion still surrounds the battle for the Republican nomination as the delegates to the GOP State Convention approach their day of decision at the Boston Arena.

This is how the Republican gubernatorial picture shapes up with conclave now only a little more than two weeks away.

Ex-Governor John A. Volpe is leading in the race but does not appear to have enough strength at this time to win on the first ballot.

State Senator Philip A. Graham and ex-Representative Francis W. Perry both have substantial backing.

Perry, who has been steadily gaining ground in recent weeks, is a good short-end possibility to wind up with the gubernatorial endorsement.

He figures that he's now second to Volpe but that he has been closing the gap and may be right up with the former Governor by convention time.

The hard-hitting Graham, who is the Republican leader in the State Senate, believes that he's second and that there may be a swing to him if the first ballot does not produce a winner.

Attorney General Edward W. Brooke is standing in the wings, waiting to see if a deadlock occurs at the conclave and, if so, whether any strong sentiment develops for him in such an event.

Our guess is that the convention may turn to Brooke if no one is nominated on the first or second ballot.

Top Volpe backers predict that their man will achieve the nomination on the first ballot. That seems unlikely at this stage although it is possible.

What may affect the outcome of the Volpe-Perry-Graham struggle is the trend the contest assumes when the first senatorial districts report their votes in the Boston Arena two weeks from next Saturday.

Wavering and shaky delegates who are not firmly pledged to a candidate are likely to shift if the man for whom they are disposed to vote does not run as well as expected.

As a result the returns from the Berkshires, the Bristol, the Cape, the Essex districts, Hampshire and Hampden and even the Middlesex districts assume increased importance.

If the pattern of the fight is clear by the time the Norfolk,

Suffolk and Worcester districts are polled, it is bound to influence some delegates in those areas.

Should Volpe, for example, move into a commanding lead on the early returns, Perry and Graham might have a difficult time holding their lines.

If Perry or Graham, on the other hand, shows greater strength than anticipated in the first 10 or 15 senatorial districts to vote, it could cause a swing to one of them.

Spot checks indicate that the early vote totals may be sharp-strong in the Cape and Bristol districts. Graham should do well in some of the Essex districts.

The clash between Volpe, Perry and Graham has aroused unusual bitterness, some of it not quickly apparent. Whoever wins this fight, whether it be Volpe, Perry, Graham or Brooke, is going to have a lot of wounds to heal and a lot of ruffled feelings to smooth down before any degree of party unity can be achieved for the autumn election battle.

Commission of UNESCO Originally appointed by Pres. Kennedy, she was re-appointed by Pres. Lyndon B. Johnson.

She studied with Prof. Robert Wood at M.I.T. on an Elliott Fellowship from Goucher College for the development of political education for women in the United States.

Mrs. Taymor was graduated from Goucher in 1942. She is the wife of Dr. Melvin Taymor, assistant professor of gynecology at Harvard Medical School, and staff physician at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. They have three children: Michael, 18, Laurie, 17, and Julie, 11.

"The challenges that face Massachusetts in these times of profound and dynamic social change must be met by the State Legislature," Mrs. Taymor declared.

For its young people, Massachusetts must provide more and better job opportunities as well as increased facilities for higher education, she said. She feels the state must recognize "the growing threat of urban violence and take steps to alleviate it."

She emphasized also that Massachusetts must provide for the increasing numbers of elderly citizens. She also supports a balanced transportation system and fiscal relief from local property taxes.

"The people of Massachusetts must once again come to respect and trust their legislature," said Mrs. Taymor. "The great issues that face Massachusetts must be solved promptly, and with reason and honor."

Sacred Heart College Sets Commencement

The class of '64 will be the fifteenth to be graduated from Newton College of the Sacred Heart on Friday, June 5, at 3:30 p. m.

Presiding and speaking at commencement exercises will be the Most Reverend George L. Leech, D.D., Bishop of Harrisburg, Penn., who is uncle to one of the graduates, Miss Judith Nolan of Stamford, Conn.

The Baccalaureate Mass will be celebrated at 12:30 p. m. in the College Chapel by the Rev. Paul G. Kelley of St. Patrick's parish Lawrence, who is the brother of Miss Sheila Kelley, a member of the graduating class.

The Rev. Francis J. Fingerhut, S.J., of the faculty of LeMoyn College, Syracuse, N. Y., will preach the Baccalaureate sermon.

N.E. Cruiser Assn. In Novice Race On June 13

Commodore Leonard Spangenberg of Waban has sent to all members of the New England Cruiser Association a list of contests planned for this season, the first of which will be one for novices on June 13, out of Boston, when a trophy will be awarded to the best scorer among those who have not yet won a NECA race.

The association, now four years old, looks ahead to its best season yet. It is a novel organization as it has no dues, only a small fee for joiners, and it is believed to be the only group of its kind to have women as official observers for its races.

Newton members, in addition to the commodore, include James H. Conington of Auburndale, treasurer and Arthur F. Veinott of Newton, a member of the Board of Directors.

Boy Pianist To Be Featured At Concert June 14

Eliot Norman, a junior at Newton South High School, has been invited to be the featured soloist at the annual 'pop' concert of the Brotherhood Orchestra of Brookline on Sunday evening, June 14.

The orchestra is conducted by Harry Ellis Dickson and Eliot will play the first piano concerto of Beethoven.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Phineas E. Norman of Newton Highlands, Eliot was a student at the All Newton Music School and is presently studying with Mildred Spiegel Zucker. Recently he was the featured soloist with the Newton South High School orchestra at the Massachusetts Music Educators convention in New Bedford.

Throughout his school years he has been a pianist for the All-Newton, Weeks Junior High and the Newton South High orchestras, the madrigal group and the accompanist for the school productions of 'Aghal and the Night Visitors', 'The Boy Friend' and 'H.M.S. Pinafore'.

Young Norman is a member of the tennis team, secretary-elect of the Chess Club and on the staff of Reflections at Newton South High and is a member of the National Honor Society and the French Honor Society.

Women's Tennis Group Proposed

Experienced doubles players who would like to play in the Public Courts Tennis League for Women, being organized in Newton, should get in touch with the coordinator, Edith Berman, at BI 4-5847.

Doubles matches will eventually be played with teams from neighboring towns and clubs. Practice sessions will start this season to prepare for qualifying in next year's tournament.

"Beatle" Fair By Oak Hill PTA

To Oak Hill School pupils, spring means many things, and best of all, it means the school's PTA Fair, always the climax of the year.

Plans are well underway, and this year the affair is under the capable leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Karas. It will have a "Beatle" theme, and records of the long-haired four will be awarded as prizes, and there will be Beatle contests.

Games, rides, good food and a Gypsy fortune teller will again be featured. There will be many free give-aways.

Besides giving the children a really good time, and a reason to look forward to next year, the hard work put in by the many, many parents of the PTA serves another purpose. The money raised in this endeavor is used wholly to purchase books for the school library.

The Fair this year will be held as always at the school playgrounds, on Wheeler Rd., on Saturday, June 6th, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The public is, as always, most cordially invited to come for a day of real fun and wholesome entertainment for all the family.

At the same time, plans to construct a new parish school have been abandoned.

According to Msgr. O'Kane, the parish will build a convent in place of what would have been a parish school, and the space the high school now occupies will be added to St. Bernard's Grammar School, which will be expanded to contain 16 classrooms.

Warm weather is here, and Spring has sprung. The flowers are blooming. The flies are back. The Rabbits have sung: by thousands they come, to mess up your walls, and annoy you some; But put away that swatter, and the bug spray too. Cause we got a 'FLY CAKE', that'll work for you!!!

Not by Robert Frost. Corry??? Maybe, but there's nothing corny about the facts, and the facts are...

FLY CAKE! is the finest product ever developed for fly control. It's effective, easy to use, and lasts all season.

Can you imagine going on a picnic, and not being bothered by flies? Sounds impossible, but it's not!! Take a couple of Fly Cakes with you, place them under your table and they will attract and destroy the flies. At home place a cake out of sight in an accessible place and your fly problem is over. The Fly Cake contains ingredients to attract flies within a ten foot radius (cannot be detected by humans) and kills them on contact. A fly does not have to eat the Cake, it commits suicide just by lighting on it. The Cake contains 3 chemicals, one to attract, one to parlyze and hold, and the third to kill the fly. This prevents the fly from getting a slight poisoning and building a resistance to it. Therefore, the Cake remains permanently effective. But the best part is, IT IS NOT poisonous to humans, animals or birds. It can even be chewed without ill effects. So...

To get tomorrow's product today, Order a FLY CAKE, right away.

We once knew a chap by the name of Homer. But Homer was a mis-namer; he was never at home. You can be sure Dad will be home on Father's Day, which is only a hoot 'n a holler away - Sunday, June 21.

Jacques can be helpful to those who would make Dad feel at home on Father's Day. Newton Corner's finest men's store offers a glittering display of affection that can be wrapped up in a quality gift to fit any pocketbook or wallet.

Speaking of which, there are Pearse leather wallets, leather-covered ash trays, leather tie racks, ostrich and alligator belts.

And Jacques has enough cases to satisfy the Perry Mason in Dad: jewel cases, key cases, charge-card cases. There are also ice buckets, slacks hangers, Spanish steel letter openers, not to mention such exotics as electric back-scratchers and gold-plated golf tees.

Here's a few other specifics, any of which could put a gleam in his paternal eyes: silk shantung ties, Rooster cotton ties, and imported silk ties, $2.50 to $10; Swank and Pendleton jewelry, $1.50 to $10.50 - links, tie bars, tie tacks.

You can't make Dad mad with any of the following: travelling chess set; fitted travel-bar case; Mark II toiletries; golf & boating jackets, $10.95 to $22.95; casual imported straw hats, $4.95; rain-repellent golf hats, $4.50.

Jacques also has one "special" that might prove interesting: regular $2.50 neckties, reduced to the special Father's Day price of $1.65.

City-Schools Liaison Idea Discussed By City Officials

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs brought to the recent meeting of the School Committee copies of an article that appeared in the May issue of "Public Management," which described an orientation day on city government that was held recently in Berkeley, Calif., to acquaint high school civics and social studies teachers with organization and activities of the city government.

The mayor advocated a similar practice for Newton. "This strikes me as being a good idea," he said, and explained that he is constantly besieged by telephone calls from citizens who could obtain the information they seek if the Berkeley idea were put into effect here.

"If these calls keep up," he said, "I might as well give up running the city and join the school system at increased pay."

The mayor said he would be glad to appoint one or two persons from his office to work with persons named by the superintendent of schools to a committee that would organize study of local government. Perhaps it would be well to organize a speakers' bureau, he said.

The School Committee voted to authorize the superintendent's appointees to meet with those of the mayor.

The magazine article, in part, was as follows: "Organized through a city-schools liaison committee consisting of nine civics and social studies teachers and the city's two administrative assistants, the orientation day provided teachers with up-to-date information on local government."

"Morning sessions consisted of speeches by the mayor, a professor of local government administration, an official of the League of California Cities, and the city manager."

"In the afternoon, several city department heads presented capsule views of operations of their departments."

Lincoln-Eliot Addition Case In Judge's Hands

Chairman Haskell C. Freedman of the Newton School Committee informed the members recently that the court case over construction of an addition to the Lincoln-Eliot School has been taken under advisement by Judge Goode of the Middlesex Superior Court, and that a decision should be forthcoming shortly.

The events that led to the suit were these:

In 1963, the low bidder on the contract failed to comply with the city ordinance requiring a copy of the bids to be filed with the comptroller of accounts. The city then rejected the Building Realty of Framingham's bid of $237,343 upon which that company filed suit to prevent the city from assigning the contract to the second lowest bidder, Rocheford Construction Company of Natick, whose figure was $240,800.

Freedman said he assumed the city would appeal should the decision be against it.

The school addition will make possible the abandonment of the Stearns School.

Dr. Finelli has been closely identified with work on polyurethane rubber since he joined the company. For numerous aspects of his work in this particular field he received the Dinsmore award last year for outstanding scientific achievement and excellence.

The award is named for Goodyear's former vice president for research and development, Dr. Ray P. Dinsmore.

One of Dr. Finelli's outstanding achievements was the compounding of a sprayable polyurethane rubber that vulcanizes in a pliable state. In addition, he has spearheaded the scientific development of various polyurethanes for solid tires, shoe toplifts, vibration dampeners, artificial hearts and arteries and a number of other products.

After serving in the U.S. Navy, he entered the graduate school of the University of Pennsylvania, receiving a master's degree in organic chemistry in 1947. Dr. and Mrs. Finelli and their three children live at 575 Castle Blvd., Akron, Ohio.

Parents Of CP Children Meet To Swap Ideas

Ten parents of cerebral palsied children from Newton, Brookline and Waltham attended a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Saul Rubin, 165 Albemarle Rd., Newtonville.

They found it most helpful to have an opportunity to exchange ideas, and they have set up a service for exchange of equipment useful in the treatment of youngsters who cannot walk by themselves, or who have little coordination of arms and legs, or who have speech and hearing difficulties.

Mrs. Edith P. Schneider, program director for United Cerebral Palsy of Boston, spoke at the meeting, and an occupational therapist and a physical therapist were in attendance.

The parents expressed the feeling that there is need in this area for a nursery school for victims of the affliction.

Another meeting is planned for June 10, and interested parents are urged to get details by calling Mrs. James Harmon at 33 Dearborn St., West Newton, or Mrs. John Boyle, 73 Washburn Ave., Auburndale.

GOP Ward Committees Are Ready For State Conclave

Well within the time limit prescribed by statute, all Newton Republican Ward Committees completed their organizational work, electing officers, and selecting their delegates to represent them at the Republican State Convention being held in Boston June 20.

Adelaide B. Ball was re-elected Chairman of Ward One. Those serving with her as officers of that Ward are: Herbert L. Shulman and Mrs. Dennis E. Myers, Vice-Chairmen; Ursula M. Manhard, Recording Secretary; Carleton P. Merrill, Corresponding Secretary; Kenneth Yukes, Treasurer.

Ward One delegates to the Republican State Convention are: Mrs. Thomas L. Easton, Carrol J. Hoffman, and Carleton P. Merrill.

As a result of elections held by Ward Two, Gwendolyn C. Giles continues in office as Chairman of the Ward with Melvin Darack and Frances Jonah as Vice-Chairmen. Suzanne R. Horner is Secretary and Nellie L. Clinton, treasurer. Ward Two delegates to the Convention are: Gwendolyn C. Giles, William R. Haney, Richard C. Husselbee, and Priscilla W. Whittemore.

Melvin J. Dangel was again re-elected Ward Three Chairman. Others elected by that Ward are: Henry J. Wilson and Mrs. Robert L. Tennant, Vice-Chairmen; Miss Nancy Bruce, Secretary; and Ralph L. Garrett, Treasurer.

Those going as Ward Three delegates to the Republican State Convention are: Wallace F. Forbes, Stanley Miller, Robert Tennant, and Henry J. Wilson.

Interest of the distaff side in Republican affairs is underscored by the representation of women from Ward Four. With Louis I. Egelson, Jr., Chairman, three women complete the Ward's convention delegates. Going to the convention as Ward Four delegates are: Mrs. Joseph Walsh, Mrs. George Michaels, and Mrs. George C. Jones.

Ward Four's officers elected are: Louis I. Egelson, Jr., Chairman; Mrs. George C. Jones and David Jackson, Vice Chairmen; Mrs. Albert Holdridge, Secretary; and Warren A. Sutherland, Treasurer. Ward Six elected Richard W. Douglass its Treasurer. Benjamin Shattuck continues as Chairman of Ward Seven. He with William Carmen and Alan W. Licarie will go to the Convention as delegates.

The complete list of officers elected by Ward Seven is as follows: Benjamin Shattuck, Chairman; Alan W. Licarie and Miss Florence Parker, Vice-Chairmen; Mrs. Alyce M. Cunningham, Secretary; Miss Mary P. Cunningham, Registration Chairmen; Melvin Norris, Publicity; and Percy Trundle, Treasurer.

Rounding out the period of intensive organizational activity and long, frequent meetings, Edward C. Uehlein, Chairman of the Newton Republican City Committee, has called two important meetings, the first on Monday evening June 15 for Newton Republican Delegates; the second on June 17 for the Executive Committee.

Local Girl Scouts A Vineyard Camp

Five Newton girls have been accepted for the program at the Vineyard Sailing Camp, one of three operated by Massachusetts Girl Scouts, Inc., 265 Beaver St., Waltham.

They are Priscilla Baird, Judith Billage, Ann Ingersoll, Caryl Isenberg and Ann Salagub.

At the camp the girls will have an opportunity to sail, swim, study marine biology, go on bike trips, and learn basic camping skills.

They will live with other girls from across the state and the country. The camp is open to Senior Girl Scouts and other girls of high school age. There are still openings in August.

LUCKY MAN IN THE MIDDLE—Frank Dolan, managing director of the Newton Summer Theater surrounded by girl students at Newton College of the Sacred Heart. Clockwise, from the top, Mary Lou Wachsmith, Polly Grannis, Margie Barritt, Jo Bogert, Marianne Hall and Cathy Beyer. Girls will have roles in the four-play season.

Summer Theater Opens June 17

The Newton Summer Theater begins its second season on June 17th with Graham Green's "The Potting Shed." Newton College of the Sacred Heart will again sponsor the professional resident company with performances Wednesday through Saturday.

A new apprentice program will be in operation this summer with six Newton College girls as the mainstays of the program. All will work backstage alternating jobs each week—one week a girl will work on costumes, the next week on lights, third week as assistant to the director, etc.

While no formal classes will be given the exposure to all the different aspects of producing and mounting a show every other week should help the individual apprentice to make up her own mind concerning the glamour of a theatrical career.

The four show season includes, "The Potting Shed" (June 17-20), that perennial favorite "Charley's Aunt" (July 1-4), "The Aspern Papers" (July 15-18) and Shaw's "Heartbreak House" (July 29-Aug. 1).

Several of the apprentices will get a chance to act with the company. Marianne Hall, from Wynnewood, Pa. will be seen in "Charley's Aunt" and "Heartbreak House." Polly Grannis (Staten Island, N. Y.) and Cathy Beyer (E. Providence, R. I.) will also be seen in "Charley's Aunt" and Margie Barritt (Brooklyn, N. Y.) will appear in "The Aspern Papers."

Critical reception from the Boston newspapers last year was excellent. That plus the fine local community response encouraged the Newton College Administration to continue its sponsorship of the Newton Summer Theater for another season.

SHERWOOD J. TARLOW

Newton May Provide Peace Corps Teacher

A Peace Corps proposal that the Newton School System provide assistance to its program in Malaya by sending a full-time science teacher there and by coordinating a program in science in Newton for the benefit of roughly six Malayan secondary school grades, aroused considerable interest from the Newton School Committee members Monday night.

Dr. Charles E. Brown, superintendent of schools, explained that the proposal came up "out of the blue" a few days previously, when Sargent Shriver expressed interest in determining whether a school system could provide service that has heretofore been rendered by colleges and universities. Newton's was the first school system to be approached by the Peace Corps, Dr. Brown said.

The superintendent viewed the proposed service as one of great benefit to the Corp's work, and one that would "benefit us." He added that it "must be determined whether providing it would be a strain on our own people by making it difficult to keep up with demands we create for ourselves."

If the matter is undertaken, he said, the start would be made next Jan. 1, and the Peace Corps association would be for a two-year period.

Non-College Training Need Is Stressed

Technical-vocational education for the non-college student at the high school level will be given serious consideration for next year, Dr. Charles Brown, Superintendent of the Newton Public Schools, stated last Thursday evening, June 4, at the meeting of the Newton PTA Council held at the Division of Instruction and presided over by Henry Shor.

"We have a fine technical high school," Dr. Brown continued. "But at present nothing is offered for girls. It is limited only to boys."

He felt there was a real opportunity to work with the Junior College to develop technical training over five years, three years of high school and two of college. This has already been done to some extent.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Peabody Seen Sure Winner; Volpe Leading In GOP Race

Governor Endicott Peabody and ex-Governor John A. Volpe are rated favorites to win the gubernatorial endorsements of their respective party State Conventions to be held next week.

But the men opposing Peabody and Volpe sharply challenge the claims of the two front-runners, charging that they are attempting to employ a bandwagon psychology.

From this vantage point the fight for the Democratic endorsement for Governor appears to be just about all over, but the Republican contest is still fogged by elements of uncertainty.

Peabody now looms as a certain convention winner over Lieutenant Governor Francis X. Bellotti and Middlesex County District Attorney John J. Droney.

Bellotti obviously was trying to soften the blow he will receive in West Springfield when he urged that the convention voting be by secret ballot.

That proposal presumably was intended to place Bellotti in a position to minimize the importance of the convention by charging in the primary that delegates were pressured and coerced by Peabody lieutenants into voting for the Governor.

Break Ground For Newton Novitiate

Richard Cardinal Cushing launched construction on a million-dollar novitiate and religious school in Newton Centre last week.

The Boston prelate officiated at ground breaking ceremonies for the Mount Alvernia Novitiate and College of the Missionary Franciscan Sisters of the Immaculate Conception, on Centre St., in Newton Centre.

Rev. Mother Mary Helena, of Rome, Superior General of the Franciscan Sisters of the Immaculate Conception, attended the exercises. Her secretary, Mother Redempta, accompanied her.

The million dollar school is located on the former Madden Estate at 790 Centre St. It is expected that the college will be completed in September of next year. It will be used as a novitiate for fifty girls.

Mayor Gibbs In Fight For Lt. - Governorship

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs has opened a drive for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

He is soliciting the support of delegates to next week's GOP State Convention.

The Mayor has sent a letter to delegates across the Commonwealth, asking for their backing and reviewing his public record and his experience in state and municipal government.

Now serving his third term and fifth year as Mayor of Newton, Gibbs formerly was a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen, the Massachusetts House of Representatives and the State Senate.

Exactly how the lines will be drawn and who the other candidates will be in the fight for the convention endorsement for Lieutenant Governor is not yet certain.

Attempts have been made by one candidate for Governor to persuade former U.S. Attorney Elliot L. Richardson of Brookline to seek the nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

However, Gibbs made it clear last night that he is in the contest to stay and that he will battle it out at the convention in the Boston

Arena with any opponents.

Mayor Gibbs apparently is assured of the solid support of the 35-member Newton delegation to the GOP conclave.

In addition to sending a letter to every delegate, the Mayor has been out stumping at night and has spoken before a number of Republican Town committees.

A resident of Newton since he was a small boy, Gibbs graduated from Newton High School in 1922 and from the Bryant and Stratton School.

He has lived in the city for 51 years.

His public career began when he was elected to the Board of Aldermen in 1941. He served four terms on the Aldermanic Board. When Christian A. Herter, Jr., resigned from the House of Rep-

Dr. Everett said that the TV program, "On Parle Francais," had been of considerable use for a time in elementary school classrooms, but was no longer used. French, he said, is being taught on an experimental basis in a few elementary schools at the Grade 6 level, but there is a representatives in 1953, Gibb was elected to the post he vacated. In 1956 he moved up to the State Senate and served two terms in that body. He was elected Mayor in 1959 and was reelected in 1961 and 1963.

A lifelong Republican, Gibb is a former chairman of the Newton Republican City Committee and recently was elected a delegate to the Republican National Convention to be held at San Francisco.

Gibb successfully engaged in business for many years as an officer of several enterprises in the paper industry. He is treasurer and past president of the New England Paper Merchants Association. Other business and financial activities are as director of the Newton National Bank and as trustee of the West Newton Savings Bank. For a number of years he was treasurer and director of the Bryant and Stratton School.

Active for years in civic and charitable affairs, Gibb is a former vice chairman of the Newton chapter of the Red Cross and has been associated with the Newton Community Chest, the United Fund, the Salvation Army, the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, the Newton Players and other groups.

He is a member of Rotary, the Masons, Shriners, Elks, Skating Club of Boston, the Boston Camera Club, Hunnewell Club, Woodland, Charles River and the Sidney Hill Country Clubs.

In his letter to the delegates to the Republican State Convention, Mayor Gibb declared:

At the urging of many friends and supporters who feel that the Republican party should offer the Massachusetts voters, in November, a slate of candidates with high integrity, long experience, and a successful record of accomplishment, I have decided to seek the convention endorsement for the office of Lieutenant Governor.

"I am currently serving my third term as Mayor of the City of Newton. Prior to this, I served several terms in the House of Representatives and then in the State Senate. From the above you can see that I have had extensive experience in both state and municipal government affairs. While serving in our Great and General Court, I was chairman of the labor and industries committee, the education committee and served on special commissions on taxation and insurance law changes. In these capacities my record will, I believe, be attractive to the Independent voter as well as to Republicans.

"As an active Republican, I have recently been elected a delegate from my district to the Republican national convention. I am a former chairman of the Newton Re-

Is It "Square To Care"

The windy season is upon us, when well-meaning orators sound off with advice and good counsel to captive audiences of high school and college graduates.

Those graduates, who have labored and waited years for diplomas and degrees, feel that a few more minutes of tolerant attention can be suffered, with the great goal so near at hand.

The swelling vocal chords of the orators run the gamut, and gesticulating fingers stab the atmosphere. Peculiarly enough, on occasion some fruitful seeds of wisdom are scattered around among the silent sitters.

One such meritorious address—and we realize that there are many more — was delivered at the Simmons College Commencement last Sunday. The speaker was Dr. Harold Bismark Gores, president of Educational Facilities Laboratories, Inc.

He was addressing the sweet girl graduates, many of whom are destined to be suburban wives and mothers, maybe even residing in the Garden City.

Dr. Gores warned the graduates that they could not go their "private way" but must care and become involved with mankind as individuals, or their legacy would be ashes.

"Never have so many had it so good for so long," he pointed out, and thus almost paraphrased a statement made in a Newton Graphic editorial on vandalism printed last week.

"Whether it remains that way," he went on, returning to life ahead for the graduates, "whether we remain free at home and safe in the world depends on whether you—and a half million other college graduates, year after year, believe that you as an individual can make a difference, that you care about matters not central to your private life, that you will try to be heard above the shouting, that you will consent to become involved with mankind."

He pointed to nations and continents of men rising up around us; races of men who are seeking for themselves, right now, what we of the western world have long enjoyed. They call it freedom.

"We in America have got it made," continued Dr. Gores, "We have prosperity and penicillin; we have freedom and food; leisure and learning; we have calories and cosmetics; we have culture and Cadillacs; we have television and tax deductibles. Yes, we've got it made—we're in. But whether we stay in depends pretty much on what you and the half million graduates of this season care about. If you think it's 'square to care' we're dead.

The speaker warned that we live in troublous times. We can withdraw behind some suburban hedge and let the world go by, or we can engage in the stir of the community. The world has a lot of business to conduct. The influence of the college graduate, male and female, is needed.

The zephyrs of commencement oratory are passing over us. The whirlwinds of political spellbinding are ahead. It is the time to demonstrate that individual thinking isn't going out of style; it is a time to be aware of the issues, national and international. By being informed we shall be strong.

Play Away From Traffic

A street or highway is a dangerous playground for youngsters, is the warning being issued at this time by police and safety officials.

With the annual summer vacation time arriving for the kiddies, many of them are inclined to use the traffic thoroughfares for play spots. Serious accidents and fatalities may result from this dangerous practice.

The American Automobile Association is alerting all parents to the importance of keeping their children from playing in the streets this summer. July and August are dangerous times for youngsters. Child traffic accidents and deaths increase markedly during these months.

"Twice as many children are killed while playing in the streets in the urban areas as in rural areas which have more playgrounds and recreational areas away from traffic," is the grim warning issued this week.

Newton parents are advised to join with those of all communities in advising their offspring of the summer vacation dangers where motor traffic is involved. They are asked to acquaint their children with the location of the nearest playground and show them the safest route to and from that area.

"Play Away From Traffic" is the sound advice given this week to Newton youngsters. The summer vacation months should be happy, carefree ones for the small fry. Carelessness in playing habits can turn them into times of terror and producers of tragedy.

Rise Of Vandalism

Editor of The Graphic:

I do want to extend congratulations on your timely and meaningful editorial deploring the rising wave of vandalism in the City of Newton.

As one who was equally sickened by the sight of the senselessly destroyed row of newly planted trees on Centre Street, I urge that your paper continue its fine work in keeping this issue before the public.

Sincerely,
 ABRAHAM STADLEN,

Peter Edgerly To Oppose Ted

Peter Edgerly of Jamaica Plain, a well known food broker, apparently will carry the Republican banner against Senator Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy in next autumn's election campaign.

Edgerly is the only candidate actively seeking the nomination for the U. S. Senate and the privilege of running against the strong man of the Democratic party in Massachusetts.

Frederick C. Dumaine, Jr., has virtually decided to continue as chairman of the Republican State Committee and not become a senatorial contender.

Nobody is drafting Edgerly as a sacrificial political lamb. He is ready, willing and eager to make the fight against Senator Kennedy and is prepared

The 10 young women who won are truly outstanding. But, just for the record, so were their competitors!"

number of years, and Mrs. Margaret Delaney of 53 Crescent Ave., Auburndale, long-time coach of the girls' basketball team at Sacred Heart High.

The Rt. Rev. John P. Carroll, Archdiocesan CVO and Chi Rho director, explained that the Pro Deo award is bestowed on adults "who have rendered distinguished service in the cause of youth."

NOW'S THE TIME! TO PAVE THE WAY TO BETTER DRIVEWAYS

The most modern up-to-date "HOT TOP" driveway is now available to you.

There have been many improvements in the asphalt industry, just as in other progressive businesses. The new mechanical carbon steel teeth grind the hardest rock to an even size for good distribution on your driveway. Raw asphalt is purer, and even heat is filtered through the mixture for better bond. Our experienced men use the new 3 foot aluminum rakes, giving you a much smoother surface.

Three year maintenance absolutely free... with costs comparable to 10 years ago.

Remember, a new "HOT TOP" driveway not only enhances the looks of your property, but saves you the inconvenience of mud holes in the spring.

A full program is being planned for the foreign students who have been abroad on the A.F.S. exchange program and A.F.S. Club members. The students will assemble at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dietz, where they will be given a box lunch. The first day there will be an orientation meeting, and other arrangements are in progress. On Monday, June 29, the students will be entertained at a picnic by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kaplan at their Scituate summer home.

Mrs. Flaschner noted that American Field Service, which began its scholarship program in 1947 with 50 students, sponsored 2822 students from 59 countries in the year 1963-64, and sent 1000 American students abroad. It is an honor for Newton to be chosen as a host city for a farewell to a group of these outstanding foreign students.

Doctor Is Inspiration For Daughter's Career

Helping her father and seeing him help other people led a Newton girl to enter the field of nursing.

Judith Lynch of 363 Waverly Ave. received a bachelor of science degree June 8 from the Boston College School of Nursing during Commencement at the Jesuit university's Alumni Stadium.

Her father, Dr. Joseph Lynch, is a chest surgeon who is on the staff of most hospitals in the Greater Boston area.

"I was always fascinated with the idea of his being able to help people," she says.

"That impression was even keener when I answered the telephone and took messages for him," she adds.

Her mother attended nursing school, Miss Lynch says. "She used to talk about nursing and how much she enjoyed it," she says. Miss Lynch plans to become a staff nurse. She is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School of Newton Centre.

While at Boston College, she was active in the National Student Nurses' Association, the School of Nursing Glee Club and the Savoir Faire Society. A sister, Jane, is in the Jesuit university's Evening School. An English major, she is in the Class of 1966. Dr. Lynch is a 1932 graduate of Boston College.

Clinical conferences and lecture programs were held in each of the cities visited, and the team participated in the Pacific Congress of Cardiology in Kyoto, and in the meeting of the Japanese Medical Association while in Tokyo.

Registration Underway For Community Center Day Camp

The announcement of the start of registrations for the summer day camps at the Newton Community has brought an enthusiastic response by parents.

Registrations for both the Kinder Kamp serving youngsters 3 to 6 years of age, and the Day Camp serving boys and girls 7-12 years old will continue until the full enrollments are attained. Individuals may register by visiting or phoning for an application.

The Day Camp, which will be headed by James C. Callahan, will operate between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Children will meet at the Center each morning and be transported to the agency camp site at Sever Hale Reservation in Westwood. Transportation between the Center and home is available and will be handled by the Wellesley Fells Transportation Company.

The private camp site is located at Sever Hale Reservation in Westwood, includes 10 acres of pine tree covered land, swimming facilities, cookout accommodations, and 30 acres of long winding nature trails. Children bring sandwiches and are provided milk. The eight week camp period which begins on June 29th, will be divided into four sessions with each child obligated to enroll for at least one two-week period.

The Newton Community Center Kinder Kamp is fortunate to have Miss Gayle Saunders available to head the activity this summer. The Kinder Kamp will also operate for an eight week period beginning on June 29th. It is located on the beautiful grounds to the rear of the Warren Junior High School. Facilities available make this an all-weather camp, Monday through Friday.

Children must register for a minimum of one period. Each of the four periods consists of two weeks. Activity will include supervised play, varied games, stories, trips to farms and other points of interest such as zoos and play areas, cookouts, and use of a wading pool.

Children bring their own lunches and are supplied milk. Juice and crackers are served at mid-morning.

Parents are urged to make reservations for their youngsters to attend camp as soon as possible to insure the child a placement. Numbers to be served are limited and therefore early registrations are advisable.

Hugh M. Tomb, Ward 7 committeeman, expressed the thought that the proposal presented an interesting challenge to the school system and to its individuals. "I am for it," he said, "if it results in no ill effect on the children of Newton in the loss of an able and experienced science teacher who would go to Malaya."

According to Ward 5 Committeeman Hawkrige, it is a question whether the school system can spare personnel. Dr. Brown agreed that there was a responsibility to give the welfare of Newton youngsters primary consideration.

Francis Frazier, Ward 1 committeeman, said, "I'll go along with the idea provided the high school students do not suffer."

"The real sacrifice we would make would be in sending a full-time science planned for the future. At present there is a successful evening program. Dr. Brown hopes to begin next year to offer day-time courses, also through the Junior College.

In the areas of Administration, Plant, and Curriculum next year's concerns will be similar to this year's. The Administration continues to search for good people all over the country and to keep its first rate teachers up on curricula changes through in-service courses on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons during the year.

There is no pressing need for building new schools in Newton at present. Rather the building problems lie in reconstructing and adding to existing facilities. Horace Mann, Lincoln Elliott, Burr, Carr, Hyde, Bigelow, Day and Newton High all are in various stages of planning.

Annual reports were given by Mrs. Thomas K. Burnap, Executive Secretary and Mrs. S. W. Hopengarten, Treasurer of the Council.

Committee chairman reports covering a year's activity were given in the fields of: Creative Arts, by Mrs. Rose Shapiro and Mrs. Melvin Shoul; Publicity, by Mrs. Bernard Kaplan; and Program, by Mrs. Edward Kovar.

Harry Greenblatt New President Of Temple

Harry J. Greenblatt, prominent Boston attorney, was elected president of Temple Emanuel, Newton, at the annual dinner meeting of the congregation, Thursday, May 28th.

Long active in the affairs of the Congregation, Mr. Greenblatt has previously served as a member of the board of trustees, vice-president of the Congregation and chairman of the board of trustees. Mr. Greenblatt is also prominently identified with the Jewish Community Council of Greater Boston and on the national level with B'Nai Brith.

Highlight of the dinner meeting was the presentation of the Solomon Schechter Award for the outstanding Youth Program in the 850 Congregations of the Conservative Movement of America won by the Temple Emanuel Youth Program last year.

This award was presented by Rabbi Jack Schechter, executive director, New England Region United Synagogue of America and was accepted by Nissie Grossman, Temple President, Leonard Matthews, chairman of the Temple Emanuel Youth Activities Committee and Chester Rubin, director of Youth Activities.

First Place Win For Local Boy In Industrial Exhibit

Two Newton South High School students won honors at the recent Mass. Industrial Education Society Exposition held at the State College in Fitchburg.

Gerald Porges, 22 Woodward St., Newton Highlands, an honor graduate at last week's exercises won first place in the department of power mechanics. He designed, engineered and built a Mini-bike. Jerry Precious, 15 Shawmut Park, Newton Upper Falls, won a merit award in woodworking for his modern lamp design.

Gerald "Gerry" Porges, who also has his own dance band, The Reveliers, plans to enter Northeastern University in September.

The boys' teacher, Henry Lambert, head of the Comprehensive Arts Laboratories at Newton South High School, has one of the most modern laboratories in the state. He has been a member of the Newton school system for 18 years.

Students from all the junior high and high schools throughout the state participated in the project in which the Newton boys were winners. All the exhibits were made in the classrooms of the various schools.

Parents Set Up Traffic Study At Intersection

Aroused by lack of police protection at the intersection of Waverly Ave., Franklin and Nonantum Sts. in Newton, parents of children who attend Underwood School arranged an inspection of conditions there for 8 o'clock yesterday (Wednesday) morning, when the youngsters were on their way to school.

Invited to view the situation were Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, Principal Henry Atkins, Rep. Joseph G. Bradley, Aldermen Theodore D. Mann and William Catmen, a representative of Police Chief Purcell, Rep. Irving Fishman and Aldermen from Wards 1 and 7.

In a letter to the mayor, Gerald A. Rogovin of 51 Shorncliffe Rd., Newton, pointed out that for nearly a year the parents had sought in vain to have a policeman assigned to the intersection, and that they were told by Chief Purcell that he had asked in his budget for the money to pay a policeman, but the item was omitted from the final budget.

Helps Air Force Save Some $2400

John Kenyon of 49 Sherrin Rd., Newton Lower Falls, an office machine repairman at Hamscom Field in Bedford, has helped the Air Force save some $2400 over a three-month period by modifying typewriters.

With a co-worker, he learned that because of a change by a manufacturer, new plastic ribbons would be unusable. They converted all 150 of the electric typewriters on the base so that they could use the plastic ribbons instead of paper ones, which do not last as long and produce poorer quality letters.

In order to accomplish their purpose they designed a modification of the electric typewriter ribbon spool.

He conducted his "back to school" sojourn for the past two years at B.U. while carrying on his duties as president of the Cambridge School of Business, located in downtown Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bortman of Newton are greeted by President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson at presentation of historic Adams Urn to White House, made by Mr. Bortman recently.

Two Newton public officials — Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and Representative Joseph G. Bradley — will seek the nominations for Lieutenant Governor at their respective party State Conventions on Saturday.

Both will have the solid backing of the Newton delegations, but both now appear to be underdogs in their contests.

Mayor Gibbs will strive for the Republican endorsement for Lieutenant Governor at the GOP convention to be held at the Boston Arena.

Representative Bradley will try to get second place on the Democratic State ticket at the conclave in West Springfield.

Mayor Gibbs' chances of winning his fight apparently depend on the outcome of the battle between ex-Governor

Good News For Kids, City Playgrounds Open Tuesday

Newton Recreation Commissioner, John B. Penney, announced today that the Newton summer playgrounds will officially open under lead-

June 23. The playground personnel—recreation supervisors, craft specialists, tennis instructor, recreation leaders, and assistant leaders, will hold an all day training session at the Edwin O. Child's Recreation Center at Hawthorne Playground on Monday, June 22nd.

Mr. Penney pointed out that playgrounds will not be supervised that day. The training sessions will be in charge of Recreation Supervisors Lillian Swartz, William Barry, Robert Doherty, and James Murphy.

The operating schedule for playgrounds will be as follows:

9 a.m. to 12 noon, 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Some areas will be open evenings from 6 p.m. until dusk.

All persons should leave the playgrounds before dark for reasons of safety and care. Central and larger playgrounds have day and evening supervision. Smaller playgrounds are supervised during day-time periods only.

The following playgrounds are supervised mornings, afternoons, and evenings:

Newton Centre, Burr, Auburndale, Cabot, Carr, Hawthorn, Albermarle, Franklin. In addition, Burr, Newton Centre, and Auburndale have an attendant on duty Saturdays and Sundays.

Playgrounds restricted to elementary school children only are: Williams, Emerson, Farlow, Stearns, River Street, and Murray Road. Other playgrounds open daily are: Boyd, Newton High School, Victory Field, Davis, Pierce, Warren Junior High, Wellington, West Newton Common, Highlands, Thompsonville, Ward, Angier, Lower Falls, Richardson, Upper Falls, and Weeks Junior High.

Weeks Junior High will be supervised this year for the first time in many years because of the interest expressed by parents in that area. Many children of playground age reside in this area now, which was not the case a few years ago.

Ward School playground was put under leadership for the first time three years ago for this reason and attendance increased yearly. Commissioner Penney announced that two playgrounds: Oak Hill School and Cold Spring will not be supervised this year

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Volpe - Perry - Graham Battle Highlights State Conclaves

This will be the weekend of decision for the delegates to the Democratic and Republican State Conventions.

The spotlight will be focused both on West Springfield's Eastern States Exposition Coliseum, where the Democratic battles will be fought, and on the Boston Arena, where the Republican contests will be staged.

Of greatest political significance will be the outcome of the three-way struggle for the Republican convention's endorsement for Governor.

The man who emerges the victor from that fight unquestionably will go on to be the GOP standard-bearer in next November's gubernatorial election campaign.

By contrast, the embattled Democratic contenders in many instances will merely be waging the first round of their clashes, with the main battles to come in the September primary.

Delay Seen For Jay - Walk Law

A change of the wording in a section of the recently-enacted pedestrian control ordinance recommended by City Solicitor Matt B. Jones has been referred to the Aldermanic committee on Claims and Rules for study.

Enforcement of the ordinance may, therefore, be delayed until Aug. 1.

The proposed change was made at the suggestion of the state public works department so that Newton's version of the regulations would conform with the requirements of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

Centre Church Bids Farewell To Music Heads

Friends gathered in the Newton Centre Methodist Church on Saturday, June 13, to express their appreciation for the guidance in the ministry of music over the past 22 years that was provided by Marion C. Greene, organist, and Marjorie M. Dow, soloist.

The receiving line at the farewell tea in their honor had, in addition to Miss Greene and Miss Dow, the Rev. and Mrs. Seston Woodley, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Richard Norton, representing the board of trustees; Mr. and Mrs. Clemens B. Emmert of the music committee, and Alan Fraser of the White-chapel Bell Ringers.

Gifts presented the departing musical leaders included a banjo clock, a wall barometer, and gold bracelets inscribed with words of appreciation.

On the occasion of the last choir rehearsal under Miss Greene's direction Thursday, June 11, Mr. and Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst gave a supper for the combined choirs and the bell ringers, and at that time Miss Greene and Miss Dow were given Westminster door chimes.

The organist and soloist are leaving the Newton Centre church to become residents of Cape Cod, where Miss Greene will assume the directorship of music at the Orleans Methodist Church, in addition to establishing a private studio for students of organ and piano. Miss Dow will be doing public accounting in the Cape area.

Members of the planning committee for the tea were Miss Carol Bonner, Miss Ruth Burns, Mrs. Clemens B. Emmert, Mrs. Gordon Rowe, Mrs. Norman Ferguson, Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, Mrs. Charles L. Renker and Mrs. Gordon Case.

Newton Church In Children's Day Exercises

"Children's Day Services" were held in the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, last Sunday, June 14th. The young people in all departments participated in the service which was conducted almost entirely by them.

The ushers, from the ninth grade, were Marian Page, Priscilla Ross, Charles A. Thompson, Jr. and Dwight Wiest. The Call To Worship was led by the first and second grades. The fifth and sixth grades conducted the Invocation which was followed by the anthem sung by the Youth Choir.

The Litany was composed and led by the third grade and The Call to Prayer was led by Guy Thomas Pitman. — The Pastoral Prayer which followed was composed by the ninth grade. The children in the nursery and kindergarten sang, and there was a Choral Reading by the seventh and eighth grades.

Ernest E. Juillerat spoke on "The Place of the Church School in Family Life," and the service closed with an address by the Reverend Paul G. Pitman, "The Church School in Relation To The Total Church," and the Benediction composed and given by the fourth graders.

Use Our Playgrounds

There was good news this week, for parents, kiddies and safety officials, with the announcement from Recreation Commissioner John B. Penney that the city's playgrounds will swing open for the summer season next Tuesday, June 23rd.

Newton has an extensive and well organized playground system, under the supervision of an able and dedicated recreation commissioner and staff. The money to finance such a project is cheerfully spent by the city fathers — but they want the youngsters to take advantage of it and enjoy it.

Elsewhere in today's Graphic the complete program and schedule of events is published.

The scope of the planned agenda is impressive with something to whet the interest of any and all healthy kids. Trained supervisors will be on hand to lend an assist. Organized play, arts and crafts, tournaments, field days and presentation of awards are all on the summer program. Supervisors train all playground leaders at special clinics and travel to all playgrounds throughout the season.

In addition to the supervised activities on the many playground areas, there will be trips for the kiddies to many nearby places of interest, including museums and beaches.

A special summer program for retarded children will be conducted for six weeks at the Peabody School.

Certainly, our city officials and commissioner and staff of the recreation commission are to be congratulated for the excellence and variety of the playground program to be launched on Tuesday.

With all city areas available to the many play sites, it behooves parents to co-operate with the program by assuring the presence of their respective broods. There is no excuse for Newton kiddies using the streets for playgrounds, with the consequent proximity of injury or death. Use the playgrounds. They are excellent and we have plenty of them.

Probably no nation on earth channels so much money or energy, and the services of so many people, in attending to the recreational needs of its young, as does our own United States.

There are some schools of thought which feel that these programs are over-emphasized and that many of the kids are over-recreationed; that too much is being done for them.

However, the majority opinion is to the effect that the money is well spent and that considerable benefit accrues from the efforts made nationally in our children's behalf.

Newton provides a wide and attractive recreational program at its many supervised play areas during the summer vacation months. They are there to be used and enjoyed. Let's make this a banner year in this city, and also extend appreciation to the men and women who annually make the programs possible.

Heigh Ho You'll Tramp at The Fair

Heigh ho, the World's Fair can be a drag on the legs and feet of visitors to the spectacle in New York.

A word to the local wise who may be toying with the idea of "Heigh hoeing to the Fair" and haven't made any advance plans concerning the jaunt — a 640 acre one.

"The late President Kennedy must have had the World's Fair in mind when he suggested those 50-mile hikes," moaned one pedestrian after spending three 12-hour days at the Fair, mostly on foot.

To see the various exhibits a person just can't avoid a lot of walking and standing around. If you don't rest every now and then, you may end up as one of the exhibits.

It is paramount and necessary to wear a pair of good shoes, not sneakers, nor high heels for the ladies. It can get cool at night at the Fair so dress accordingly. Make your plans so that you won't be lugging a lot of things around with you. Extra luggage can be wearing. And, don't overeat if you intend to do a lot of walking around.

It makes good sense to get an official World's Fair guide book and study it. Plan your itinerary, the things you want to see, the areas in which they are located, what eating places are nearby, what gates you'll be using, and the prices of events. As for money — expect to spend it.

But, with good advance planning — and a strong fight against temptation — the investment should be well worth the money spent.

Political Highlights

Governor Peabody, for example, is heavily favored to beat down the convention challenges of Lieutenant Governor Francis X. Bellotti and Middlesex County District Attorney John J. Droney and score a decisive victory.

While that triumph will help Peabody and to some extent boost his political stock, the Governor will face a much sterner test when he engages Bellotti and Droney in the primary and the decision will rest with the Democratic voters of the Commonwealth, not an assembly of politically-minded delegates.

With the great patronage power he has at his disposal and the quiet but effective help he is getting from the organization of Senator Edward M. Kennedy, a convention win for Peabody is virtually a foregone conclusion. It is almost inconceivable that Peabody could lose.

Under the circumstances Bellotti will make a creditable showing if he pushes his convention total up over the 500-vote mark.

GOP State Leaders Expect Long Fight

Leaders at Republican State headquarters evidently don't expect the gubernatorial encounter to be settled quickly. GOP State Chairman Frederic C. Dumaine, Jr., has reserved the Boston Arena for a week from Saturday in case this Saturday's convention has not completed its business by midnight.

Politicians and public alike are waiting to see whether Dumaine makes good on his promise to unveil a mystery candidate for the U.S. Senate who would be strong enough to give Senator Ted Kennedy a hard fight.

Dumaine sometimes is carried away by his own enthusiasm when making a speech or being interviewed, and he has put himself out on a limb by this assertion.

It is understood that attempts have been made to persuade Congressman Laurence Curtis to carry the Republican banner against Ted Kennedy.

As matters presently stand, however, the only candidates for the GOP endorsement for U. S. Senate are Peter Edgerly, Jamaica Plain food broker, and Attorney Eugene Emerson of Cambridge, former tax lawyer in the Justice Department.

Edgerly probably has the edge if they remain the two contenders and Dumaine does not come up with his mystery man.

The choice of the Republican nominee for Lieutenant Governor may depend on the outcome of the fight for the gubernatorial endorsement.

If Volpe is the winner of the big battle, he is expected to send word to the delegates that he wants former U. S. Attorney Elliot Richardson of Brookline as his running mate.

Neither Perry nor Graham would attempt to dictate the selection of the candidate for Lieutenant Governor if one of them wins the top spot on the GOP State ticket.

The three-cornered fight for the Republican nomination for Governor between ex-Governor John A. Volpe, ex-Representative Francis W. Perry and State Senator Philip A. Graham may prove much closer than many politicians expect.

Volpe, the favorite, must win on either the first or second ballot or see his chances fade. At this writing Volpe does not appear to have enough support to achieve a first-ballot victory.

If the contest goes three ballots, Volpe is likely to start losing his strength, and there could be a shift to Perry even though Perry will run second or third on the opening ballot.

Attorney General Edward W. Brooke's withdrawal as a potential gubernatorial contender improved Perry's prospects. Brooke supporters divided between the three candidates, but most of them went to Perry who was a $1-a-year aide to Brooke until he became a candidate for Governor.

Reports which have been fed out of Volpe's camp as to the ex-Governor's delegate strength don't stand up.

For example, the Volpe lieutenants claim their man has the backing of a big majority of the Boston delegates. A survey, however, indicates that Perry has more delegate support in Boston than Volpe.

Volpe apparently is counting on building up a big lead on the first delegations to report their returns and by so doing attract wavering delegates who want to be on the winning bandwagon.

That strategy sometimes is successful. If it doesn't work for Volpe, he may be in deep trouble.

The result of this fight may hinge on whether Graham and Perry can hold their lines on the second ballot if Volpe leads on the first.

Even now, almost on the eve of the convention, some delegates say they are undecided on how they will vote.

The Volpe-Perry-Graham battle is fraught with uncertainty. No prediction can safely be made as to its outcome.

Secretary of State Kevin H. White has taken opposition from Attorney Peter R. Beatrice of Swampscott but is sure of renomination. If a roll call is held in that contest, it will be a sheer waste of time.

State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane is favored to prevail at the convention over Boston School Committee Chairman Louise Day Hicks and Laurence Curtis, Mayor and Governor's Councilor John J. Buckley.

Crane was elected Treasurer by the State Legislature after former Treasurer John T. Driscoll was named chairman of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority to succeed the late William F. Callahan. He will have effective support from the same legislators at the convention this weekend.

Mrs. Hicks, who may prove an extremely potent contender in the primary, launched her campaign too late to be able to muster enough delegate strength to challenge Crane.

Former State Treasurer John F. Kennedy, who also is planning to enter the primary, is bypassing the convention.

State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley will be renominated by acclamation.

Francis W. Perry Short-End Choice

A long-shot forecast by this writer would be that Francis W. Perry will capture the Republican nomination for Governor on the third ballot at Saturday's GOP conclave.

Ex-Governor Volpe hopes to score a blitz on the first ballot. He does not appear to have the strength to do it, however, unless there are 11th hour shifts.

Perry should be the beneficiary if and when delegates begin to drift away from Volpe and Senator Graham.

Graham is an extremely able Senator but has the Goldwater image. He is likely to reach his maximum strength on the first and then begin to slide downhill.

The feeling between Volpe and Graham is extremely bitter. Graham has gone so far as to say he will oppose Volpe in the primary if the ex-Governor gains the convention endorsement.

When both the Volpe and Graham backers shift, they are likely to swing over to Perry.

This is predicated on the assumption that Perry and Graham can hold their strength and stop Volpe on the first ballot and that Volpe will be unable to promote a last-minute bandwagon stampede by a strong showing on the early delegations.

One of Perry's handicaps is that his greatest power lies well back in the voting delegations and that his big push will not come until the Suffolk delegations are polled. That will give him a problem of holding his lines. If he can do it, he will be in a good position. If he can't, Volpe will win on the first ballot.

It should be one of the liveliest State Conventions the Republicans ever have held.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs is seeking his party's endorsement for Lieutenant Governor and seemingly would have a good chance of getting it in a free and open fight.

Gibbs has been campaigning for delegate support which Richardson hasn't. He is an active candidate and Richardson isn't. That probably should place Gibbs in the role of favorite if Volpe maintains a hands-off policy.

The Newton Mayor asserts that he will fight it out to the finish at Saturday's convention. But the odds will be against him if Volpe wins the gubernatorial endorsement and then gives the nod to Richardson.

Also in the GOP Lieutenant Governor race are Representative Gordon Boynton of the Back Bay, who is being legislated out of office, and former State Senator Howard Z. Young of Fairhaven.

In addition to Richardson, potential candidates for the Lieutenant Governor nomination are Representative David Locke of Wellesley and Representative Wallace B. Crawford of Pittsfield.

Attorney General Brooke will be renominated by acclamation.

Opponents in the contest for the Republican endorsement for State Treasurer are Representative Robert C. Hahn of Stoughton and former State Senator Joseph Silvano of Brookline.

Elliott K. Slade of Dennis is the only announced Republican candidate for Secretary of State.

So far the Republicans haven't come up with a candidate for State Auditor. It seems that there's more glamor to getting defeated by Senator Ted Kennedy than by Auditor Thomas J. Buckley.

Sen. Umana Is Leading In Dem. Lt. Gov. Race

A big field of candidates are bidding for the Democratic endorsement for Lieutenant Governor, but State Senator Mario Umana appears to have a decided edge in the contest.

If Peabody defeats Bellotti, Senator Umana, an Italo-American, will be a logical choice as Peabody's running mate.

If Umana doesn't get second place on the Democratic State ticket, it may go to former Cambridge Mayor and City Councilor Joseph DeGuglielmo of Cambridge, another Italo-American.

However, reports from various sections of the State indicate that Umana has made a more active campaign and has mustered more delegate support than any of his opponents, including DeGuglielmo.

It also is somewhat unlikely that the convention will pick the candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor from the same city. Both Peabody and DeGuglielmo are residents of Cambridge.

Other contestants in the Democratic Lieutenant Governor battle include Executive Councilor John W. Costello of Jamaica Plain, Representative Joseph G. Bradley of Newton, Boston School Com-

Fights

John A. Volpe, ex-Representative Francis W. Perry and State Senator Philip A. Graham for the Republican nomination for Governor.

If Volpe is the winner in that struggle, the endorsement for Lieutenant Governor probably will go to former U. S. Attorney Elliot L. Richardson of Brookline.

If either Perry or Graham is the convention choice for the Governorship, Gibbs will be a favorite to gain the second spot on the Republican State ticket in an open floor fight.

Persons close to ex-Governor Volpe told the Graphic last night that Volpe has decided upon Richardson as his Lieutenant Governor running mate if he wins the endorsement for the Governorship.

They said that Volpe has committed himself to throw his support behind Richardson and to go all-out for the Brookline man if he comes out of the gubernatorial battle a victor.

Perry and Graham have declared that they would not attempt to dictate the choice of a nominee for Lieutenant Governor and would maintain a hands-off policy while the candidates battle it out in a free and open fight.

Even though Gibbs seemingly would have scant chance of prevailing at the convention if Volpe is the nominee for Governor, a substantial number of Newton delegates are backing both Volpe and Gibbs.

At Volpe's headquarters the Graphic learned that an emissary for Volpe originally broached the idea to Gibbs of his running for Lieutenant Governor.

After this was done and Gibbs tossed his hat into the ring, Volpe and his advisers decided they wanted Richardson as Volpe's running mate if the later is successful in his contest.

Mayor Gibbs declared last night that he intends to battle it out to the finish at the convention.

It will be an uphill struggle, however, if Volpe wins his fight since most delegates invariably are responsive to the wishes of the nominee for Governor.

Representative Bradley is not considered to have any real chance of achieving the endorsement of the Democratic State Convention in his first bid for state-wide office.

If Governor Peabody wins over Lieutenant Governor Francis X. Bellotti, as is expected, the convention probably will choose an Italo-American to team with Peabody as the candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

The Newton delegation to the Democratic conclave will give Peabody a big plurality over Bellotti.

Present indications are that Peabody will receive about 20 or 22 of Newton's 28 votes and that Bellotti will get about six or eight.

Conflicting estimates have been made as to how the Newton delegation to the Republican State Convention will split its vote between Volpe, Perry, and Graham. Some delegates say they are still uncommitted. However, Volpe appears to have the edge over Perry and Graham.

Grand-Dad

"I went back for a master's degree after 31 years away from school because I felt I should practice what I was preaching at school about being professionally oriented in one's field," said Graham, 54, a resident of Newton Centre, a father of three children, and grandfather of three more.

Mr. Graham, who completed his latest academic record with nothing less than grades A or A minus and one B plus, won't quit now, and has applied at the School of Education for doctoral study.

His family are understandably proud of the Newton grand-dad educator graduate.

The loyal rooters include, wife, Edith, daughter Wendy, 17; son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence N. Miller, of Newtonville; son, John, 22, and grandchildren, Peter, 1; Kathy, 6, and Billy, 8.

FATHER'S DAY IS SUNDAY

And in the manner of Rudy Vallee, we should lift our lilted voices in glad song: "Stand and drink a toast to Dad, Shout 'til the rafters ring . . . etc."

But, in case you are not tuneless, and the melody faileth, why not try Jacques for that just-right Father's Day gift? Come in armed with nothing but love and affection . . . or bring money if you wish . . . or, like General Beauregard, you can c-h-a-r-g-e!

Dad will go mad for Madras. The lineup fairly sparkles with good-taste patterns and distinctive colorings, in Madras sport coats, $39.50, Madras walk shorts, $8.95, Madras swim trunks, $8.95, and Madras sport shirts, $4.95.

FATHER'S DAY BONANZA — Pure silk neckties, regularly $2.50, have been reduced to $1.65. These come in stripes, foulards, solids and patterned motifs.

How's this for a shirt story for Father's Day? Short sleeves and breeze-riddled fabrics for summertime coolness go with every one at no extra cost:

Hathaway 'Airtex' cellular-cotton button-downs in solid colors of Burgundy, Dartmouth Green and Navy Blue, at $9.50. Hathaway Gingham sport shirts, in colorful checks, $8.95. Also Hathaway Club Stripe button-down batistes, $7.95.

Regular Hathaway batistes in white, either with short point or button-down collar, are great at $6.95. And at $5, cotton batistes by Van Heusen in snap-tabs and regular collars are make-Dad-glad bait in white and solid pastels.

And no one was ever known to be shot for giving a Father's Day gift of a straw hat. Jacques has some nappy head-hunters by Stetson, at $4.95 to $11.95. These include milans, coconuts, leghorns, majorca weaves and panamas.

And, as a last-minute gift, you can still get Dad some colorful Cary Middlecoff slacks at $12.95, or golf-boating jackets from $10.95 to $22.95. You and Dad will be glad it came from Jacques!

A colorful display of original stitchery, created by seven and eight year old students of the Burr School in Auburndale, may be seen at the Auburndale library.

The project is an outgrowth of the reading and literature program conducted at the school during the year just closed. Children who participated were inspired by various children's book characters.

They completed their own stitchery projects using colored burlap, yarns, felts and other materials. The children constructed their own wooden frames.

The projects were initiated during the recent observance of Library Week under the direction of Miss Mary Baker, art consultant, of the Division of Instruction; Mrs. Wilma Foye, classroom teacher; and Miss Gail Steinberg and Miss Natalie Klein of Boston University.

he has been closely allied with the People-to-People program since it was founded in the Eisenhower administration.

His friendship with President Johnson goes back some years and was brought sharply into focus several years ago when the then Vice President Johnson invited the camel driver for Pakistan to visit the United States. Bashir Ahmad, the camel driver, was placed in the care of the People-to-People program and Mr. Bortman travelled with him around the country.

A long-time friend of the Johnsons, Mr. Bortman presented to Ladybird Johnson the first piece of ceremonial silver used by John Adams, first presidential occupant of the White House.

The piece, a handsome, 22-inch high Sheffield plated silver coffee urn was given to Mrs. Johnson in an impressive East Room ceremony by Mr. and Mrs. Bortman and their daughter, Mrs. Joel Larus of Natick. It becomes the most important item of the permanent White House collection.

After the ceremony, President Johnson joined Mrs. Johnson in the Blue Room where they received all the guests. Mrs. Johnson will display the urn on a table in the Green Room under a picture of Philadelphia near the Daniel Webster Sofa. Later, it will be placed on a side-board in the Family Dining Room.

During the same week, Mr. and Mrs. Bortman returned to the White House for their second dinner in the Executive Mansion in several months. Previously they had attended the dinner in honor of the visit to the United States of Prime Minister Lord Douglas Home of Great Britain.

Now the dinner was in honor of Levi Eshkol, Premier of Israel and Mrs. Eshkol.

In the receiving line, Mr. Bortman was presented to Prime Minister Eshkol by President Johnson as one of his long-time friends for whom he had a strong admiration.

Social Security Payments Are Due To Pay Off

"Why worry about social security? I'm not going to get it until 1990 anyway!" That's the attitude some young people have when they hear talk about social security or see the deductions on their paychecks. Actually, the majority of these young people will eventually become 65 and older. Eventually, they will find that social security deductions made now will pay off in social security benefits when they really need them.

But, social security is much more than old-age benefits. It is valuable protection during your working years as well as after them. It provides payments of as much as $254 a month to the families of workers who have died. It also provides payments to the worker and to members of his family should he become totally disabled, no matter at what age.

Team-work among the personnel of the Waban Branch Office of the Boston Postal District was rewarded last Thursday with the awarding of the coveted "E" Pennant for Excellence.

Postmaster Ephraim Martin personally presented the pennant to Supt. Thomas P. Mulligan, of the Waban Branch Postoffice at exercises held Thursday afternoon.

Also taking part in the ceremonies were, Roger H. Smith, assistant superintendent, and the entire personnel of the office. Postmaster Martin praised highly the work of the people at the Waban office.

Mayor Gibbs Gets Tough Lesson At GOP Conclave

Whitmore Is Sacrificial Lamb

When Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and ex-Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., went to the Republican State Convention at the Boston Arena last Saturday, their big objective was to make Gibbs the GOP nominee for Lieutenant Governor.

Before the conclave was concluded, these things happened:

1. Top Republican leaders, including ex-Governor John A. Volpe, pulled the rug out from under Gibbs in his bid for the nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

2. Gibbs subsequently rejected their suggestions that he accept a place on the Republican State ticket as the nominee for Secretary of State.

3. Whitmore was talked into becoming the Republican standard-bearer against Senator Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy. He was not the mystery candidate Republican State Committee Chairman Frederic C. Dumaine, Jr., had in mind if, indeed, there ever really was a "Mr. X."

On the eve of the convention Friday night, when the GOP delegates swarmed through the Hotel Statler, it appeared that Mayor Gibbs had won his fight for the endorsement for Lieutenant Governor.

Delegates by the hundreds filed into Gibbs' room to pledge him their support, and be on his way to a convention the Newton Mayor seemed to victory.

Citation For Dudley

Cornerstone Rites For Temple School

"A world in which people live in harmony with each other is possible only if we include the teaching of human values in the educational programs we map out for our children," said Rabbi Philip Kieval, speaking at the recent cornerstone exercises for Temple Reyim's $300,000 Religious School now rising adjacent to the temple sanctuary at 1860 Washington street, Newton.

Greetings for the Commonwealth were brought by Captain Peter Nelligan, military aide de camp to Governor Endicott Peabody. Mayor Donald L. Gibbs brought the greetings from the city of Newton. Also present was the Republican senatorial nominee, Howard Whitmore Jr.

Rabbi Kieval, who was the keynote speaker, pointed out that the new structure, being readied for fall occupancy, would provide opportunities for adult education as well as schoolrooms for the children. "In each brick," he said, "there is a little bit of our devotion and our dedication to the children who will attend this school."

Chairman of the program Samuel H. Gerson introduced the past presidents of the Congregation and the board

But after Volpe won the endorsement for Governor the next day, the word was spread by his lieutenants that he wanted former U. S. Attorney Elliot L. Richardson as his Lieutenant Governor running mate.

Delegates who only the night before had promised their votes to Gibbs were swung into line behind Richardson, and Mayor Gibbs' strength crumbled.

Gibbs put up a valiant but vain fight. Ex-Mayor Whitmore placed his name in nomination and made the nominating speech in his behalf. Dudley Dumaine, son

M&B Bus Lines Will Continue Local Service

The Middlesex & Boston bus lines will continue operations in Newton at the request of Governor Peabody, it was announced this week.

The board of directors of the street railway company voted about a month ago to cease operations next Tuesday unless subsidies were obtained from the cities and towns they serve to offset their operating losses.

A $40,000 subsidy was sought from Newton, and for a period this was considered by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs.

However, the company has been promised State assistance under the Governor's recently enacted $225 million transportation bill.

Meanie Vents Ire On Garden

A new departure in vandalism was reported last week by a West Newton woman victim of a large-footed individual with an obvious cruel streak.

Mrs. Ruth Mereness of 30 Murray road had been nursing along a row of 21 tomato plants, giving them loving care because of the prolonged dry spell. But alas someone who left oversized footprints in her garden had callously uprooted the entire crop.

17-3 Vote Establishes Dog Control In Newton

New steps toward controlling Newton's big dog population were taken by the members of the Board of Aldermen at their meeting Monday night.

By a 17-3 vote the Aldermen approved the establishment of a Department of Animal Control which will be headed by a director who also will serve as a full-time dog officer.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs declared last night that a number of things must still be done before the Department of Animal Control can begin functioning.

The salary of the new dog officer must be established by the Mayor and Aldermen.

Then the Mayor will decide on the location of the proposed dog pound where unruly and misbehaving canines will be taken when they are picked up by the new dog officer.

Finally, Mayor Gibbs must select a dog officer who will be equipped with a

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

Peabody, Volpe Both Face Major Problems After Wins

Both Governor Peabody and ex-Governor Volpe have major problems to overcome in the wake of the smashing victories they achieved in winning the endorsements of their respective party State Conventions last weekend.

Peabody won only the opening round in his fight for renomination when he crushed Lieutenant Governor Francis X. Bellotti and Middlesex County District Attorney John J. Droney at the Democratic conclave in West Springfield.

While Peabody will be the favorite over Bellotti and Droney in the primary clash which will be settled by the Democratic voters on Sept. 10, it will be a much sterner test for the Governor than he faced at the convention.

The bitterness created within the Republican party by the three-way struggle for the GOP gubernatorial endorsement must be causing Volpe deep concern.

Lonesome Shut-In Would Enjoy Mail

A 60-year-old woman, who looks forward to only six more months of life, has asked the Newton Chamber of Commerce get the help of the city's leading newspaper to the end that her remaining days may be somewhat brightened.

Justin T. Horan, the Chamber's executive director, has therefore sent along to The Graphic a copy of her appeal, which is as follows:

"I would like to have a few lines in the people's forum so I can get loads of mail.

"I am a lonesome shut-in, age 60, and live in a controlled bed.

"My husband is 62 in August. He has arthritis real bad in his legs and feet. His walking is poor, but he does a fine job of taking care of me.

"I can look out of my bed to the main road. I see the mail man go by every day. And only about once a week does he stop at my box.

"So that is my wish — to get loads of friendly cards so they will cover my whole bed.

"As it will be my birthday the 26th of June, I would like it to be the happiest ever. You do not have to say anything about my birthday, as I am looking for cards, not a gift. It will help me to forget this terrible pain I have every day.

"I have only six months to live, and I have got so nervous. So I asked the doctor what he thought of the idea and he said wonderful. I hope to get thousands of friendly cards.

"So please put a few lines in your paper just saying that a lonesome shut-in wants mail. My address:

Chief Issues Police Alert On Vandalism

Now that the schools of Newton are closed for the summer, Chief of Police Phillip Purcell has caused an order to be read at all roll calls urging officers to increase efforts to minimize vandalism in the school buildings and on public playgrounds, and to report and investigate completely any damage found.

"Every effort should be made to locate the responsible parties to bring about prosecution and restitution for this needless and costly vandalism," the chief declared in his order.

According to a recent estimate, up to $40,000 damage is done annually by vandals in the city.

Top Competition At Wonderland

Wonderland's first big series — its annual Kennel Championships goes into the history book as one of the most successful competitions in a long string of red-hot rivalries.

Now the Revere oval, averaging better than $500,000 per night in the handle department, looks forward to the remainder of its stakes schedule for 1964.

Next on the card is the George E. Huestis Memorial, a Wonderland Course on June 26 with a qualifying round on June 22.

Then will follow the annual Wonderland Derby on July 24 over the Revere Course. Qualifying rounds for the Derby will be staged on July 9, 13, 17, 21.

On Aug. 28, the thrilling two-dog final of the yearly Wonderland Count-Down will find the two finalists clashing after elimination rounds on Aug. 7, 11, 14, 18, 21 and 24.

Then will follow the Wonderland Futurity Stakes, dates for which have yet to be announced, and the Wonderland Sprint Championship over the 5/16ths-mile course on Sept. 3. A qualifying round for the "sprints" will be staged on Aug. 31.

While in Wisconsin, he was a member of Troop 11 and as such undertook various conservation projects. At Camp Clark, he planted pine trees to be used as a wind break and to prevent soil erosion. Also, he helped count pheasants for the Wisconsin State Conservation Department.

In the summer of 1963, he was elected a member of the Order of the Arrow. Ted took advantage of an opportunity to attend Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, New Mexico, where he participated in a vigorous program of hiking, camping, survival, horse-back riding, and gold panning.

Lesson of Republican State Chairman Dumaine, made one of the seconding speeches.

When the balloting began, the power of the Republican machine became quickly apparent, and the roof fell in on Gibbs.

After 12 delegations had recorded their vote totals and the count stood 432 for Richardson, 58 for Gibbs and four for Representative Gordon Boynton of the Back Bay, Gibbs and Boynton called off the fight and moved that Richardson be nominated unanimously.

The Newton delegation never got a chance to vote for Gibbs. The contest — if such it could be called — was halted before the Newtonites were reached on the call of the roll.

What had happened had been predicted in last week's Graphic if Volpe won the nomination for Governor.

Mayor Gibbs accepted his defeat philosophically although he obviously realized that the word had been sent out for Richardson on the Volpe camp at the last moment and that he hadn't been permitted a fair and open fight.

"I learned a very good political lesson," said Gibbs. "I have no regrets. I am deeply grateful to those people who were kind enough to support my candidacy."

Later in the convention, Gibbs was approached by an emissary for Volpe and asked if he would accept the Republican endorsement for Secretary of State.

He turned down the offer flatly and vigorously. Gibbs said he didn't think it would be fair for him to take that nomination away from Elliott Slade of Dennis who had been campaigning for it for months.

Ironically, after Gibbs' refusal and his declaration that he wouldn't be a party to pulling the rug from under Slade, as it had been pulled from under himself, the Republican establishment dumped Slade and gave the endorsement to Representative Wallace B. Crawford of Pittsfield.

Then came the stunner when Elmer Nelson, Volpe's convention campaign manager, arose in one of the Worcester delegations and placed the name of Howard Whitmore, Jr., in nomination for the U. S. Senate.

Some time during the steamy afternoon Whitmore was talked into becoming the Republican candidate against the hospitalized Ted Kennedy. That Whitmore was not overly - enthusiastic about the idea was evident from the fact that he himself sought to persuade other prominent Republicans to make the fight against Ted.

When they politely but firmly declined, Whitmore finally agreed to accept a role which to many political observers looks very much like that of sacrificial political lamb. One reason he did it was that he felt he could not refuse to do what he himself has urged others to do. Another is that Whitmore believes strongly and sincerely in the two-party system.

Aldermen Approve $35,000 For Horace Mann Furnishings Cost

An appropriation of $35,000 requested by the buildings commissioner for furnishings and equipment at the new Horace Mann School was given approval Monday night by the Board of Aldermen.

Other docket items on which approval was voted included the following:

The city librarian's request for an appropriation of $1485 for purchase of a Regiscope-Rapidec circulation system for the main library. Reporting as acting chairman for the Finance committee, Winslow C. Auryansen explained that the committee's approval was based on evidence that the photo-film system, which has been tried out in the library, made possible a 70 per cent more rapid and more accurate recording of books loaned and returned.

An appropriation of $2978.83 requested by the Retirement

Board to cover the June 7 to December 31 portion of the $5241.60 annual pension of George F. Saunders, who had 39 years of service.

The Board accepted a Finance committee adverse report on a request by the election commissioner for transfer of $1000 to the Street Department to cover cost of delivering and picking up tables and chairs at primaries and elections. Chairman Auryansen suggested that such charges be included in next year's budget.

Street acceptances under the Betterment Law were approved as follows: Beecher place, Newton Centre, cost $48,600; Lawmarissa road, Waban, cost $23,800; Monadnock road, Chestnut Hill, cost $15,100.

An appropriation of $15,000 for sewer installation in Burdett road, Newton Centre, was approved, but the Finance and Public Works committee's adverse report on a request for acceptance of Nancy road, Chestnut Hill, was accepted. The committee chairman pointed out that there had been considerable objection by residents at the June 1 public hearing.

Transfer from Louis Bravo to Jack A. Pearlman of the license for a nursing home at 32 Newtonville avenue, Newton, was given the Board's approval.

Also approved was the petition of Mt. Ida Junior College, for construction of a staff dormitory to accommodate 34 persons on the college grounds.

A claim by Dutelle and Company, Inc., of $829.99 for repairs to the roof of the Mason Rice School last September was allowed. Harry H. Ham Jr., Claims and Rules chairman, explained that a misunderstanding had resulted in the payment's being held up. The contractor had assumed that he was authorized by a verbal order to do the work, but the then city purchasing agent claimed the verbal order had no standing. It was an emergency job, Alderman Ham said, and was accomplished just prior to a four-day rainy spell which would have caused severe damage had the work not been done.

butterfly net to swoop up pooches violating the city ordinance and a truck with which to take them to the pound.

Dogs who enter school yards or recreational areas, who molest people or chase automobiles will be picked up by the dog officer.

Indications are that it will be late summer or early fall before the Department of Animal Control is in operation, and the dog officer working.

Debate at Monday night's Aldermanic meeting centered principally on the question of whether the new dog officer should be a department head or an employee with civil service status.

Chairman Harry H. Ham Jr., of the Aldermanic Committee on Claims and Rules, maintained that he should be a departmental head and should be capable of "handling the delicate problems" which arise when neighbors are at odds on matters relating to dogs.

Ham pointed out that since the dog officer would head the Department of Animal Control his authority would extend to all animals and that he would be obliged to devote full time to the job of enforcing the laws governing animals.

"The man must be well qualified," Ham asserted, adding that a person with the proper qualifications would not be easy to find.

"It is a sensitive job," Ham continued, "and whether the man who holds it is on the civil service list or not is no concern of this board."

The 17 members who favored the proposal as it was advocated by the Claims and Rules committee were: Aldermen Winslow C. Auryansen, Adelaide B. Ball, William J. Bruce, William Carmen, Ernest F. Dietz, Franklin N. Flaschner, William M. Glovinsky, Harry H. Ham Jr., George L. Hicks, David W. Jackson, Theodore D. Mann, John P. McCarthy, Jack M. Roberts, Warren A. Sutherland, Edward C. Uehlein, Harry L. Walen, and John F. Nixon, the latter presiding in place of the absent Wendell R. Bauckman.

Those voting against the proposal were Paul J. Burke, John F. Holden and Andrew J. Magni.

The absentees, in addition to President Bauckman, were Melvin J. Dangel, William F. Hopkins, and Charles F. Hovey.

Burke, Holden and Magni opposed the establishment of the new department because the ordinance creating it does not provide that department director shall be under civil service.

Meeting

lorn, hope that some day the two might meet face to face.

A year ago, the Newton pen-pal received word that "next year, Margaret and I will be coming to the States." Margaret is the wife of Colin Heighway.

It still seemed improbable that the meeting would occur. But, on Thursday, June 11, in receipt of some substantial information from New Zealand, Newton's Mr. and Mrs. Ross were on deck at Logan Airport to greet the Heighways and welcome them to their home.

It seemed that they knew each other quite well, pictures and the letters had given all the clues and much information. But, the face to face meeting, the warm handclaps after long years of words written on pieces of paper, were the climax to a rare relationship — especially among men.

After all, the average man is anything but a continued and prolific letter writer. But, the former New Zealand soldier and the American god found additional subjects to discuss via the sound of their voices.

Following two days of intensive sight-seeing in the Boston and Newton areas, the Rosses took the Heighways to Cape Cod where they enjoyed their mutual interest, sailing. Ross is a naval architect; Heighway, in the textile business, enjoys sailing as an avocation. Just recently, the Heighways left their Newton friends and took off to complete their world journey, combining business with pleasure, before returning to New Zealand.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross have lived in Newton since 1946. They have four children, Stephen, 17; Cynthia, 14; Lucille, 10; and Robert 5. The Heighways have two children, Elizabeth, 16; and Robert 13. Mrs. Ross is the former Anita Winer of Brockton.

Good Work At Waban Office

The Graphic is happy today to extend an editorial bouquet to the officials and personnel at the Waban Branch Post Office on attaining the highly-prized "E" Pennant for Excellence in the Boston Postal District.

Efficiency, good customer relations and carrier service, and prompt dispatch of mail are measured in granting the award. One is given annually in the Boston district.

It reflects the excellent service to be found in all Newton branch offices, but Waban is the winner and exclusive owner of the pennant for one year.

Superintendent Tom Mulligan modestly affirms that the award is the result of team work among all personnel. Quite true, Superintendent Mulligan, but a good team also requires expert hands on the reins. Those happen to be yours. Congratulations for good work at Waban.

OUR READERS SAY

Tribute To Mayor Gibbs

Editor of The Graphic:

The men and women of the Newton Delegation to the Republican State Convention Saturday stayed right with it to the last despite the heat and tedious detail. It was an exciting convention and our delegation came away confident of the results next November.

But readers of the Graphic will undoubtedly want to share what is probably our most lasting impression. We were deeply moved by the tribute to Mayor Donald L. Gibbs by the hundreds of delegates who came to his suite in the Statler Friday night to express their goodwill and admiration.

It was a dramatic expression of the high regard in which our city and its officials are held by others of Massachusetts.

Sincerely,
David A. Lurensky

DINNER HONORS CAHILL — President Nathan I. Greene, left, of Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, presents gifts and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. John J. Cahill at recent retirement dinner for Mr. Cahill.

Country Club Dinner For Retiring Banker

More than 200 friends attended the recent retirement party at the Sidney Hill Country Club at Chestnut Hill for John J. Cahill, vice president of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company.

Mr. Cahill is retiring June 30th after forty years of association with the bank. A lifelong resident of Newton, he graduated from Newton High School in 1917.

Mr. Cahill began his banking career in 1924 at the old Newton Trust Company in Auburndale as a checkteller. In the following years, he worked in every department of the bank; and for several years served as the manager of the Auburndale branch office, and then took over as manager of the much larger Newton Corner office.

He was elected assistant treasurer in 1935 and became vice president in 1944. For the past several years, Mr. Cahill has been in charge of the bank's conversion to automation for its accounting department.

Past president of the Newton Bankers' Association and past secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, he is a member of the Newton Kiwanis Club, Robert Morris Associates, and a member of the Suburban Bankers' Association.

He is director and chairman of the executive committee of the Baystate Computer Center and a member of the National Association of Bank Auditors and Comptrollers.

Mr. Cahill makes his home at 31 Lexington street with his wife and two children.

Political Highlights

Both State Senator Philip A. Graham and ex-Representative Francis W. Perry were chilly toward Volpe as they accepted their convention defeats in the sweltering Boston Arena. Neither made any pledge of support to the ex-Governor who is attempting a political comeback.

To have a real chance of winning in November Volpe must restore harmony and unity within the GOP and get the wholehearted backing of Graham, Perry and their friends.

That isn't going to be easy after the kind of battle Volpe, Graham and Perry waged and the things which were said in the heat of the campaign and even in the convention hall itself.

While Governor Peabody has his problems on the Democratic side of the political fence, it is only being realistic to point out that Messrs. Bellotti and Droney have even bigger ones.

In the clear, cool vision of hindsight, it would appear that Bellotti and Droney made a strategic error in challenging Peabody at the convention. Perhaps it would have been difficult for Bellotti to bypass the conclave since he himself was a product of the 1962 convention.

Peabody's prestige was definitely enhanced by massive margin he piled up triumphing over Bellotti at West Springfield.

Bellotti's political stock dropped as a result of the clobbering he received.

This was true despite the fact that the impact of Peabody's 3-1 victory was blunted by the plane crash in which Senator Edward M. Kennedy was injured.

To this observer it seemed that Peabody and his lieutenants came of political age at last weekend's convention. They worked like professionals, not amateurs. They operated with a businesslike despatch. They committed some blunders before the convention ended, but they didn't make any while they were fighting for Peabody's renomination.

Well before the convention opened it was apparent to most political onlookers that Bellotti was making a fight he couldn't win.

Whatever Bellotti's reasons may have been, whether he really believed he had a chance to upset Peabody at the convention or whether he felt he couldn't afford to dodge a convention battle, he never backed away from the crushing defeat which seemed inevitable.

How much Bellotti's primary prospects were hurt by his convention defeat is uncertain, but they surely haven't been improved any.

Bellotti accepted his convention loss philosophically and asserted that the primary fight will be an altogether different kind of contest which, of course, is true.

But Bellotti now is confronted with the big problem of attracting public attention to his candidacy during the summer season when most people usually don't become over-excited about political campaigns and when there will be two national conventions to draw the spotlight.

Under a change in the law the primary this year will be held just three days after Labor Day. That early date will be a handicap to Bellotti as the challenger and underdog.

However, Bellotti is a good campaigner and an excellent speaker. He unquestionably will seek to carry the fight to Peabody, and he will be no pushover for the Governor.

How potent a contender Droney will be is something only time will reveal. He should be reasonably strong in his home county where he is highly respected.

A tactic Peabody probably will adopt both in his primary fight with Bellotti and Droney and in his final election battle with Volpe — if he is renominated — will be to campaign for Ted Kennedy as well as himself.

Ted Kennedy, of course, will be sorely missed by Peabody in the summer primary and by the entire Democratic State ticket in the autumn campaign.

Ted himself is sure of reelection. Members of his family probably will come into the State to speak for him. Even in a hospital bed he'll be a help to the Democratic party but not as much as if he were out campaigning actively.

Newton Woman To Be Judge Of Men Cooks

Mrs. Marjorie Gilbert, 86 Farwell St., Newtonville, will serve as one of the three women judges for the annual Massachusetts Men's Outdoor Cooking Championship on Saturday, June 27.

The competition is sponsored by the Carling Brewing Company for the fourth year and will be held on the plant grounds in Natick beside Lake Cochituate.

Representatives of over 40 men's service clubs, veteran and charitable organizations will compete as amateur chefs for the state title. Each competing group will receive a cash contribution for its favorite charitable project, and the winner will be awarded an engraved silver tray.

Mrs. Gilbert, who was chosen Mrs. Massachusetts 1962, has judged the contest for two previous years. She will base her decision on originality, economy, organization and neatness, eye appeal and flavor.

Present plans call for re-enacting the contest at the New York World's Fair in 1965, with the three winners from each of the previous years also competing.

Dr. Huston Is New Minister In Newtonville

The Rev. Robert W. Huston, who preached his first sermon as pastor of the Newtonville Methodist Church last Sunday, will move with his family into the parsonage at 56 Somerset road, West Newton, this week.

Dr. Huston succeeds the Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford, newly-appointed superintendent of the Boston District of the Methodist Church.

Coming from the Center Methodist Church of Malden, where he has been minister for the past six years, Dr. Huston, before coming to New England in 1949, saw Navy service during World War II.

Among his former pastorates was the Methodist Church in Weston, where he served for nine years. For several years he has been secretary of the New England Metho-

An alternate delegate to the U. S. conference of delegates to the World Council of Churches, he was elected two weeks ago as the first chairman of the newly-formed New England Conference Commission on Ecumenical Affairs.

Newton Corner's Future Studied

The Newton Chamber of Commerce has put together an "ALL STAR CAST" of Newton business leaders for the purpose of studying the development problems presently affecting Newton Corner.

The committee has expressed grave concern over the projected figures of 28,000 cars per day to be generated in Newton Corner as a result of the Toll Road.

It has deemed as an "absolute necessity" the addition of a foot-bridge connecting the North side of Newton Corner with the South side in the vicinity of the old Centre Street bridge.

Present plans call for a sub-committee of this Chamber group to meet with Turnpike Authority Chairman John T. Driscoll in the near future.

Newton Girl Is Marsha Jordan Board Finalist

She has won a one-year position on the Marsha Jordan Fashion Board at Boston. Her exciting year will include modelling in the Marsha Jordan Fashion Shows, attending monthly meetings and selecting a back-to-school prize. She is a student at Meadowbrook Junior High School.

Newton Woman Heads State Vets Auxiliary

COMET
WORLD'S DURABILITY CHAMPION

The Comet boom is on! That's because people are finding out you get more with a Comet! A full-sized family car that seats six adults. Proven durability. A great resale value record. And Comet's label price is lower to begin with than 5 out of 6 cars in its class. Don't wait for a "year-end sale"—the time is now!
